Impossible

Impossible. I've run across either that word or the idea it conveys several times lately. It was part of a sermon title a few weeks ago. We will see it again next week in our reading in the book of Mark. We found it Wednesday night in our study of the life of Moses. It says something about human nature and our tendency to see limits of what can be done. There may be times in your own life that you have looked at a situation, hoped for a result and thought to yourself, "That's impossible." Sometimes that is the place where God likes to work.

Last Wednesday night, we found the Israelites freed from slavery and led by God via Moses and the pillar of cloud/fire to what looked like a dead end at the Red Sea. It was then that Pharaoh decided he was not quite ready to let the people go. He gave chase, and the Israelites thought they were trapped. There was no way out, because their only options were through Pharaoh's army or into the sea. Both of those were IMPOSSIBLE. And that's exactly the way God does what He does. Of all the options they might consider, having the sea part so they could walk across on dry land was not one of them. But that is exactly what happened.

What about us? How often do God-fearing people look at a situation and believe that it's hopeless? Many of us have been guilty of that at one time or another, yet were serve the God who does the impossible. Let's remember who He is and what he does before we think about the impossible. - Brian

"Truly I tell you, if you have faith as small as a mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move. Nothing will be impossible for you." - Matthew 17:20

Join us for Bible class on Sunday mornings at 9:30. All ages began the New Testament last week. This is the schedule for March:

March 5 – From Abraham to Jesus (Matthew 1)

March 12 – Mary Praises the Covenant-Keeping God (Luke 1:26-38, 46-55)

March 19 – God Becomes a Baby (Luke 2:1-20, Matthew 2:1-12)

March 26 – Jesus in His Father's House (Luke 2:40-52)
