I was born in Missouri into a strong Christian family. My paternal Grandmother, all my aunts, uncles and 18 cousins attended church. I didn't know there was any other way to live.

As a teenager I moved to Oregon. I started attending the North Bend church of Christ. When I was 13, I was baptized during a youth devo. I remember feeling happy but my focus was on making my parents happy.

I met Bret there and we began dating. When Bret's family moved to Eugene, I soon followed. We were married in September, two days before he started college. I started studying with a girl with whom I worked with. She had no church background. She made the decision to get baptized, and I felt convicted to get rebaptized. I felt like I had gotten baptized at 13 because that was what I was supposed to do. I wanted to do it this time because I not only wanted Jesus but needed him. I was baptized in November of 1994 by Randy Wray. I still remember leaving the parking lot knowing who my Savior was and where I'd be going if something happened to me.

I feel such a deep love for HIM and have tried hard to live for HIM. I fail a lot but know HE's there to take me back and pick me up each time I fall. I've been through some tough times in my life and don't know how people make it without Jesus. The comfort I have knowing Who I belong to is the best feeling I've ever felt. Denise Foreman
